Carried Information From England by Use Of New Invisible Ink

Two Men Under Arrest For Violation of U. S. Federal Law Are Accused of Using So-called Newspaper Men to Gather Information—They Were Used, Sometimes Inconsciously, It Is Stated, to Carry This Information to United States, Later to Be Sent to Germany

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Agents of the department of justice arrested here today two men who were carrying on the federal law against carrying on military information in the United States to agents of the central powers, but chiefly to those of Germany.

These men gave their names as Albert Sander and Frederick Funston. The complaint against them was signed by Judge Learned Hand, of the United States court of appeals, who charged them with conspiring to employ newspapermen to gather maps and other military information in England and Ireland, and then to connect him with the operations of Germany.

The charges were prepared by John C. Knowlton, assistant prosecutor, under the direction of the branch of the department of justice, president of the Central Powers. Wm. H. Wilkins, 40 years ago, was assistant counsel for the accused and is a member of the bar. He has been a naturalized citizen of the United States.

According to A. M. Offley, divisional superintendent of the department of justice, the two men were engaged in smuggling in water, but required a chemical preparation to bring it out.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
BALTIMORE, Feb. 19.—Lord Marmaduke Furness, Earl of Grantham, of the famous British Line of steamers, on an inspection trip of the Baltimore shipping terminals to-day, declared that Germany's new submarine policy is having no more effect upon English shipping than her old policy had.

"Our own line," he said, "has lost thirty-one ships during the war, but we are replacing them two to one. When the war is over our facilities will have more than doubled."

He said the war would never finish until the Allies had achieved victory. The allied powers had fully agreed about that, he added.

COMMANDER OF U.S. FORCES ON MEXICAN BORDER DIES SUDDENLY

Major-General Funston Expires in Hotel at San Antonio, Texas, on Monday Night—Cause of Death Is Given as Acute Indigestion—Has Had an Eventful Career

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 19.—Major-General Frederick Funston, commander of American forces on the Mexican border, collapsed in his room in a hotel here soon after the arrest in England of General Carrasco, who was representing American newspapermen in this country by the British authorities, and by means of which Superintendent of Intelligence, Sir William Maxwell, had been compelled to connect him with the operations of Germany.

The general's investigation is still in progress. It is believed that he did not become violently ill, but rather suffered from a severe attack of indigestion, which caused him to vomit. His condition was so serious that he was sent to the hospital, where he died.

General Funston was born in New Castle, Del., and spent his boyhood in Kansas.

He studied for three years at the University of Kansas, and then went to Alaska and the Yukon, and from the Mackenzie River to the Klondike, where he made a fortune of $3,000 a month; camped on the Klondike, and then went down the Yukon river alone, and finally reached the Pacific coast.

He was made a captain in the U. S. Cavalry in 1898, and was assigned to the 10th Cavalry, which was stationed at Fort Riley, Kan.

MAJOR F. W. W. FANE,
LATE OF 3RD C. M. R.

The major pointed out that the case was similar to that of where a man had been reported as dead when he had been shot over by a general court martial. Even in this case the man was drawing a pension.

Disability Retirement

The matter of soldiers who had been accepted for enlistment and, afterward developed, just some disability, which did not prevent their service, and which was deducted from the service pay, the pension rating was discussed at some length. Major Buchanan said that it was only natural that the pension would be less efficient when taken on. If, later on, it was determined that it was more than it should be allowed for, the board always gave applicants the benefit of the doubt.

In response to another question it

Sir James Watson's Opinion Considered Most Valuable

He said that the commandant of all districts in Canada, Sir James, firmly advised that the men should be given the best supplied by "Castorine". No case of Castorine has ever been known to him. He said that it is a miracle worker, relieves almost instantly and completely all rashes and skin treatments can't reach the diseased part. It is a great help to those who go to the source of the trouble alone with the air you breath, it leaves no marks or freckles, it is a great help to those who have bad after-effects, it is simply nature's own cure.

Law Should Stop Sale Of Elastic and Spring Trusses

Such Misery-Causing Makshafis Are the Ruptured Man's Worst Enemy

Depending on elastic or spring trusses there is little less than misery. Such contractions shorten your life.

It is better to let them alone even when drawn tight that they scarcely give a minute's relief. They are a curse.

And because they nearly always let their victims get worse all the time, they are used to stop the bleeding and saving their lives by undergiving operations.

These mischievous makshafis cause no small amount of trouble. They cost a lot of money that the law should put a stop to.

Don't Buy Anything For Rupture

Without Giving It A Thorough Test

It is a good idea to make sure why you are buying the ever gets satisfied up to the last drop.

If it is a good business trust to a mere manufacturer, then it is safe to buy first and then a thorough test.

The only way you can ever make sure about a truss is to buy it and then after a trial period through day after day, to see if it holds up.

Then there is the guarantee that you can get on some long time enough to stand up to the maker's rupture holder.

Only Thing Good Enough

To Stand a 60-Day Test

It is a good idea to make sure before you make it to your measure and get it made up to fit you, that it is safe to take you to a test.

If you are not sure about it, then asking you to risk a cent.

This guaranteed rupture holder-the famous one that stands a 60-day test.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION

is a proper way to get this information.

Hon. J. R. Boyle—Does he contend that this government has jurisdiction over the Yukon?

Dr. Blow—What I am contending is that this government is responsible for all these rates which are both too cheap and that J. D. McArthur is trying to make a profit through high freight rates to make up the balance.

Mr. Mitchell—Does he know the name of the man who is responsible?

Dr. Blow—McArthur, he was not named, but that is what he was quoted was correct.

Different Conditions

Mr. Mitchell—There was no difference in one case it was a railway company which was practically a construction—and an old established railway through a well developed country.

Dr. Blow—In addition to the case of a railway running into a new country, the one was continuing, to my knowledge, the other was great.

Mr. Mitchell—Does he know how high the freight rates were and how low the tariff on the C. P. R.?

Mr. Mitchell—Do you mean 10 per cent, higher than on the old established prairie country?

Seized With Heart For Ten Years Would Nearly Smother.

There is nothing that brings with it such fear of impending death as to wake up in the night with that awful feeling of heart trouble.

And irregular heart action causes the most terrible suffering, especially to the aged.

Mildura's Heart and Nerve Pills are the only remedy that can give prompt relief and effect a complete cure in most cases.

They strengthen and invigorate the heart, and tone up the nervous system so that the cause of much anxiety is removed.

Mrs. M. O. McCready, Wanilla, Ontario, says: "I have had a very bad heart condition for ten years, but I have been taking Dr. Blow's pills every day for three years now, and I feel like a new woman."

Dr. Blow—Does he know how much he takes daily?

Mrs. McCready—About 100 drops a day.

Dr. Blow—Does he know what heart trouble he has?

Mrs. McCready—I have a weak heart.

The Zeppelin seems to be a fail-ure even as a baby-killer. It is some weeks since a raid was re-ported.

Born has decided that the American Commission may con-tinue to distribute relief in Bel-gium. The Commission will do well to take extra precautions to see that the relief gets to the Belgians. Humanitarian concessions from Berlin have to be regarded with suspicion. The present one may mask a plot to steal the food.

Republican leader Mann argued in Congress that if the United States were drawn into the war it could not longer claim the exclusive right to fight abroad. He is right that the United States isn't doing any great amount of regulating in those parts, and that regulating seems to be pressingly and personally manifested loss of the exclusive privilege of war. It is not a matter for either the United States or the world to worry about. Mr. Mann's argument is, of course, sound. If the United States were to become a nation apart from the other nations, and to assume the responsibility of protecting the rights and interests of its people in the eastern hemisphere, it cannot however object to the same right in protecting the rights and interests of their people in the western hemisphere. As there does not seem any way by which the United States can avoid being drawn into the freedom rights of its people without sur-rendering its self-respect, the chances are that the Republic will elect to take its place among the world's nations, abandoning the Monroe doctrine with the conditions under which it was made.

Although Canada is represented in London by a high commission, an attorney general, commissioners, and seven agents representing the provinces, there is but one Canadian in the committee appointed by the British government to settle the dispute between Canada and South Africa. To examine into the conditions for settling ex-soldiers on the land after the war. The committee consists of the three high commissioners of Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, the six African agents, general members, of the Imperial parliament and officers of Imperial departments. Frank Walker, the Dominion immigration agent at London, when comment is made, does the presentation of the interest of the government at Ottawa in immigration. Canada after the war and pending the return of the men to British extraction. No one for a moment believes that it is due to my desire on the part of the British government to slight the Dominion. The committee, I am sure, has the best interests of the Dominion at heart. The question raised is what has the high commissioner or the emigration commis-sioner been doing?

A New Brunswick recruiting officer is writing long letters to the newspapers on the subject. "Why Have Conscription?" Well, one reason is that under conscription New Brunswick battalions would be raised in New Brunswick instead of Alberta.

Provincial elections are being held in New Brunswick. In the opinion of the Opposition in the Alberta Legislature this, no doubt, is an act of crass indifference on the part of the New Brunswick Government toward the war, if it does not even bespeak a designful design to seize a renewal of power while so many vital voters are away. The opposition, of course, if Mr. Michener and his friends apply the same standard of duty to the Conservative government of New Brunswick that they do to the Liberal government of Alberta, will be in a position of fact, does anybody suppose General Haig cares a hang whether the people of New Brunswick or of Alberta had provincial elections?

A government which cannot or will not face the facts is not fit to carry on a war. Ever since the war began the consistent demand of our national government has been that the public should disregard the facts and believe what we know about the facts not. If our ministers were omniscient and above human frailty that policy would be all right. But a government which cannot buy boots and horses and ships and tanks and which had fathered Alberta and his schemes for looting the British and Canadian treasures, which sent the Second and Third Canadian divisions into action with a dash thrown away a year before, and which is still using the one rifle factory in the country to make that kind of rifle, can hardly claim that it would not be the better of watching, and of an occasional word of advice from the public who have to pay for its mistakes and misdeeds. And even then, the public are bound in their own interests to ignore it. No Canadian Government ever had, and none ever can have, so large an opportunity for self-government as that before the Borden cabinet. The reason where every interest was and is at stake are entitled to ask whether those interests have been protected and pursued as the circumstances require. This is easily the information the Government has consistently suppressed and side-stepped. This attitude of evasion is not that of admission of incompetence, but of the right to continue to run the war incompetently. It amounts to a claim that it is none of the public's business whether the war is being waged competently or not.

To the Bulletin—Will you kindly tell me if King Edward VII. was in Queen Victoria's bed when she died?

The late King Edward VII., when still Prince of Wales, visited the United States in 1860. His ship, the "Windsor," flew the Queen Victoria's colors. He was 18 years old. Queen Victoria was never in America.
